Thankful for the Saints

November brings us two important occasions that invite us to remember, reflect, and give thanks: All Saints Day and Thanksgiving. At first glance, they might seem like separate celebrations. One invites us to remember the faithful who have gone before us, while the other encourages us to count our blessings. But perhaps these two occasions belong together more than we realize. After all, one of the greatest blessings we can give thanks for is the faith that has been passed down to us by those who came before us.

When we celebrate All Saints Day, we remember the people whose lives helped shape our own journeys of faith. Some were family members who taught us to pray before we ever understood what prayer meant. Others were Sunday school teachers, pastors, youth leaders, or faithful friends who helped us discover what it means to follow Jesus. Some offered a quiet word of encouragement at just the right moment. Others showed us what faith looks like through the way they lived, loved, served, and endured difficult seasons of life.

Not all of these saints were famous, and most would never have thought of themselves as extraordinary. They were simply people who loved God and tried to live faithfully. Yet their influence continues long after their earthly lives have ended.

The writer of Hebrews reminds us that we are surrounded by a “great cloud of witnesses” (Hebrews 12:1). Their stories remind us that faith is not something we create on our own. It is a gift we receive, a treasure we nurture, and a legacy we are called to share. Someone helped us discover the love of Christ, and now we have the privilege of helping someone else discover that same love.

That is where Thanksgiving enters the picture. As we gather around tables with family and friends, we will undoubtedly give thanks for the blessings of the past year. But, perhaps we should also give thanks for the people whose faithfulness helped bring us to where we are today. We can thank God for the saints who prayed for us, taught us, encouraged us, challenged us, and showed us the way of Jesus.

And then we must ask ourselves an important question: What kind of faith are we passing on to those who will come after us?

The next generation needs more than a church building, a collection of traditions, or stories about how things used to be. They need people who demonstrate the love of Christ, who welcome others with open hearts, who serve their neighbors with compassion, and who live with a hope that endures even in difficult times in their lives.

This November, may All Saints Day remind us of the faithful people who helped shape our lives, and may Thanksgiving fill our hearts with gratitude for their witness. Most of all, may we live in such a way that those who follow us will one day have reason to give thanks for the faith we shared with them.

We are thankful for the saints who came before us. By God's grace, may we become faithful saints for those who come after us.

And may the peace of Christ be with you,
Pastor Doug

Lighting the Advent Wreath Candles

One of our wonderful Advent traditions here at Wrightsville UMC is the lighting of the candles of the Advent Wreath on each of the Sundays of Advent as well as during the Christmas Eve Services. It is an opportunity to read the pre-selected scripture and light the Advent candles. It's a wonderful congregational tradition as well as a personal tradition for several of our folks. Why not make it your new tradition this year?

If you would like to be a part of the lighting of the Advent Wreath Candles, please sign up on the deep roots bulletin board or email donna@wrightsvilleumc.org.

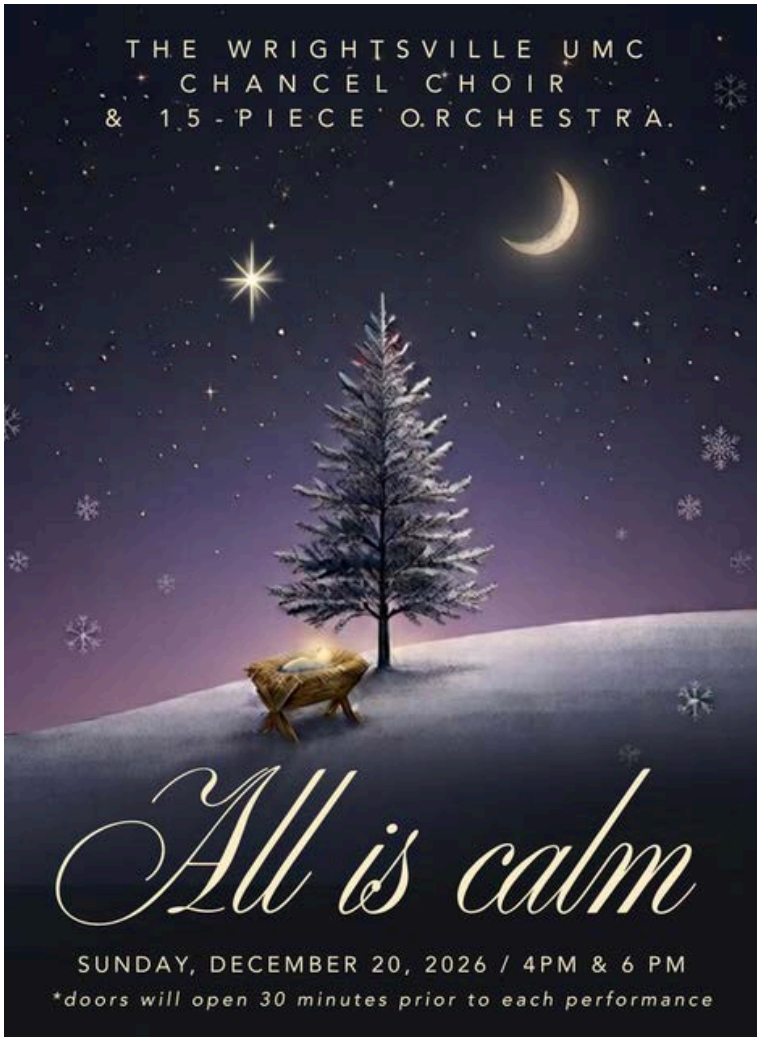

YOU ARE INVITED to Experience "All Is Calm" – A Special Christmas Worship Concert

On Christmas Eve in 1968, as Apollo 8 orbited the Moon, the crew gazed back at our fragile, blue planet floating in the dark void of space. Looking down upon Earth, astronaut Jim Lovell spoke words that echoed across millions of television sets around the world: "The vast loneliness is awe-inspiring and it makes you realize just what you have back there on Earth." Moments later, the crew took turns reading the opening lines of Genesis 1, offering a message of hope, peace, and eternal order to a world weary from conflict.

That momentous broadcast mirrors the very first Christmas night. Just as light broke into the dark void of the cosmos at Creation, God sent His Son into a dark, fractured world—not with grand spectacle, but in the stillness of a humble manger. The quiet arrival of Christ answered humanity's deep loneliness with the promise of His presence: Immanuel, God with us.
In a world that often feels rushed and uncertain, the message of Christmas remains unchanged. Christ comes to bring peace to troubled hearts, stillness to anxious minds, and hope to every corner of our lives.

Pastor Miles' November Book Recommendations

The life of faith involves both devotion and understanding. Through study and reflection, our minds and hearts are gently shaped and deepened in the way of Christ. Here are a few book recommendations for November to encourage thoughtful reading and continued growth in faith.

The Way of the Heart* by Henri J.M. Nouwen

Inspired by the ancient wisdom of St. Anthony and the Desert Fathers, Henri Nouwen's The Way of the Heart invites us to rediscover a simpler, deeper path toward God through solitude, silence, and prayer. Nouwen reminds us that solitude is not simply being alone, silence creates space to tend the presence of God within us, and prayer is learning to stand before God with our whole selves. This brief but profound book offers a timely invitation to step away from the noise and busyness of life and reconnect with what truly matters: the presence of God.

Reading the Signs of Daily Life* by Henri J. M. Nouwen

How do we recognize God's voice amid the noise and uncertainty of daily life? In Discernment: Reading the Signs of Daily Life, Henri Nouwen offers gentle and practical wisdom for anyone seeking to understand God's call. Drawing from his teaching, journals, and unpublished writings, Nouwen encourages us to listen for God through Scripture, prayer, the community of faith, and especially the voices of those on the margins. This thoughtful book reminds us that discernment is not simply about finding the "right" answer, but learning to pay attention to where God is already speaking and leading us.

GET READY TO PACK YOUR BAGS!

We're putting the finishing touches on our next two exciting trips, so stay tuned for more details coming soon!
